POLAND ASKS
U. N. TO BREAK
WITH FRANCOAMERICA BALKS AT PAYING HALF OF
1947 EXPENSES

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Poland demanded tonight that the United Nations break off diplomatic relations with Generalissimo Franco and bar his government from any organization connected with the United Nations.

Poland's foreign minister, Wincenty Rzymowski, chief of his country's delegation to the U. N. assembly, filed a double-barrelled resolution with the United Nations little more than 24 hours before the deadline for bringing up matters for the agenda.

His action came at the end of a day filled with committee meetings which was marked by the United States balking at paying half of the administrative costs of the United Nations for 1947.

Poland filed a complaint against Franco Spain last April but the United Nations security council, after a long wrangle, failed to act.

Russia Only 6 Percent

The United States lost no time today taking up the matter of administrative expenses for 1947.

Soviet Russia was assessed six percent for that period and Great Britain 10.50 percent in the proposed budget.

U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the United States member of the U. N. administrative - budgetary committee, made a strong statement to the committee rejecting the figure set by United Nations experts.

He said his delegation would recommend to the United States congress that this nation pay 33 percent for 1947 on a temporary basis but that the U. S. felt a top limit of 25 percent should be agreed upon for any one country after the world's economy has recovered from war.

In a bit of whimsy, he suggested that if the U. S. economy was so good, perhaps the United Nations ought to adopt "our economy" as standard practice for all of its membership.

Free Sites Offered

While the committee phase of the work of the U. N. assembly began this morning at the Lake Success interim headquarters, the United States delegation stepped into the permanent site, wrangle in the U. N. for the first time with a suggestion that the assembly consider the offered New York City site and the San Francisco Bay area as well as the Westchester county, N. Y., section.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, issued a statement saying that both New York and San Francisco had offered sites for the permanent home of the U. N. both free of charge, and that he believed these offers merited consideration. This opened the gate for a battle in the assembly between New York and San Francisco, to the announced elation of a delegation here from the California city to press its invitation.

The assembly at present is officially faced only with the choice of one of five sites surveyed in Westchester county by a commission instructed to do so last winter but the question likely will be broadened in view of the United States position.

Scattered Items
Freed Of Price
Control By OPA

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—The OPA freed scores of additional items ranging from churms to matches from price ceilings today but delayed issuance of its master decontrol list.

The agency originally had planned to complete its major decontrol program today. Officials said the necessity for consulting other government branches on various phases of it, however, will hold it up for another week or more.

The miscellaneous items decontrolled today made a six-page list. The OPA explained that the ceilings were removed "because their supply is in approximate balance with demand or because they are unimportant in business or living costs."

Included were matches, both paper and wooden; most machinery and equipment used on dairy farms; bodies and equipment for buses; several types of engines; a few lumber, paper, metal and chemical products, and bones of all types used for meal and mash.

Also freed were notions sold at retail counters and used to mend or repair garments, such as collars, cuffs and neckwear for shirts, and a few textile items such as sleeve protectors, knitted arm warmers and dust caps.

In addition to churms the new decontrol list includes milking machines, cream and milk separators, ice-refrigerated milk coolers and metal milk cans. Other farm equipment released includes hand-operated sprayers and dusters.

Walnut lumber for luxury furniture cabinets, chests, specially designed store fixtures and interior trim also was freed. But OPA retained controls over walnut veneer, much used by the furniture trade. Other lumber leased include redwood cigar box lumber and wooden circular heads for shipping drums. Machinery items freed include certain gasoline and Diesel engines and the small engines attached to furnish power for bicycles.

Some commercial and industrial lighting fixtures were freed but fluorescent fixtures of all types remained under control.

Among miscellaneous equipment freed are plastic containers for electric storage batteries, some concrete mixing machines, certain steam boilers and blow pipe guns.

SALLY'S BUBBLE
BRINGS TROUBLEFamed Fan Dancer Lands
In Los Angeles Court
After Show

Los Angeles, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sally Rand engaged the famous criminal lawyer, Jerry Giesler, today to defend her in a municipal court jury trial November 13 against police allegations that her costume covered very little, indeed, of Sally.

She appeared briefly before Judge Kenneth A. White on the charge of giving an "obscene, indecent, immoral, impure exhibition which tended to corrupt the morals of youths and others."

Said exhibition was her feather-and-bubble dance, familiar to bald-head rows of the nation since the Chicago World's Fair of 1933, in a Broadway theater here last night.

Sgt. W. K. Madden of the vice squad asserted: "All she was wearing was a very small triangle patch."

Sally said today: "It's the same dance I've been doing since 1942; the same dance I did in San Francisco." She was acquitted there recently of indecent exposure.

Furthermore, said 42-year-old Sally, "I did the same dance at the matinee today before I came here to court and the police were there but they didn't bother me."

She and Howard R. Williams, theater manager, charged under the same municipal code, pleaded innocent and were at liberty under bail pending the trial.

Bonisteel Named
University Regent

To Succeed Bishop

Lansing, Nov. 1 (AP)—Roscoe O. Bonisteel of Ann Arbor was appointed to the University of Michigan board of regents today to succeed R. Spencer Bishop of Flint, who died recently.

Bonisteel is a graduate of the university law school and has lived in Ann Arbor since 1930. He is a past president of the state bar, and a member of the bar board of examiners.

In announcing the appointment, Kelly said "I am confident that Mr. Bonisteel will prove a worthy successor for Mr. Bishop, who was known to alumni and friends of the University of Michigan as a conscientious and able alumnus who gave unsparingly of his time and effort."

Bishop's term would have expired in 1951.

DUKE FINDS NO
JOB IN BRITAIN

London, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor failed to get a job today from Prime Minister Attlee and he and his duchess—robbed of $80,000 in jewels during their short stay in England—were reported planning to sail on the Queen Elizabeth next Wednesday for the United States.

Entering through a back door at No. 10 Downing Street, the former king conferred with Attlee almost an hour. He left by the same back door. An authoritative government source said afterward that no suitable appointment existed for the Duke.

Government informants said it was well known that the Duke would be very happy to accept "a governorship," and written a letter to the Duke from France asking for appointment.

A spokesman for the Cunard Line said he understood the Duke and his American-born duchess, for whose love he gave up the throne of Britain, would sail on the Queen Elizabeth Nov. 6. The liner is scheduled to arrive in New York Nov. 11.

One government informant said the reason the Duke gave up his governorship in the Bahamas was because of his wife's health. He had gone to France because the climate there suited her better, and this was a prime factor in considering any new post. This informant said the Duke would not go to any British colony unsuited to his wife's health.

Atomic Bomb Test
Forces Dispersed
By Navy Command

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—Indicating that no further atomic bomb tests are planned for the foreseeable future, the navy announced today that the army-navy task force which exploded the two atomic bombs at Bikini last July is being dissolved immediately.

"All units and personnel will return to the organizations from which they were drawn," the announcement said. The force included more than 200 ships, 150 planes and 42,000 men.

Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, who commanded the force, is being detached from duty as deputy chief of naval operations for special weapons and will take command of the Eighth fleet in the Atlantic.

Cambodians Revolt
Against The French

Bangkok, Nov. 1 (AP)—Reports of an uprising against French rule in Phnompenh, capital of Cambodia, Indo-China, reached Bangkok today, the Siamese ministry of the interior announced.

The outbreaks were reported to have been staged at Phnompenh and Jampong Speu by "free" Cambodians, who had been preparing for months to resist the French. These rebels, according to the reports, were joined by Cambodian troops from French colonial forces and by Japanese who had been hiding in Cambodia.

KEROSENE BURNS FATAL

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP)—John H. Wolfe, 59-year-old Lodi township farmer, died in St. Joseph Mercy hospital here today of burns suffered in an explosion and fire at his home Thursday night. Investigators said Wolfe poured kerosene on a fire to kindle it when he thought it was out.

TRUMAN HOME
FOR MISSOURI
VOTE TUESDAYPRESIDENT PASSES
UP ALL POLITICAL SPEECHES

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman made four non-speaking appearances in his home state of Missouri yesterday as partisans whipped up pre-election oratory and Attorney General Clark warned against ballot box-stuffing.

The president arrived by train at Independence, Mo., where he will vote Tuesday. He was met by the mayor and relatives. He made rear platform appearances and shook hands with greeters at Jefferson City, St. Louis and Sedalia.

He not only declined to make any speeches, but passed up a party rally last night in Independence for which Speaker Rayburn was the orator.

Clark's warning came in a statement asserting the Federal law "clearly establishes" the right of every qualified person to vote Tuesday and to have the ballot "counted honestly as cast."

Clark's office said the statement was issued in response to many inquiries, particularly as to whether ballot box stuffing and failure to count votes would violate federal election statutes. Clark said they would.

Other political developments: Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Senate Democratic leader, said in a speech for a Mutual broadcast that his party "presents a forthright plan of positive action" and the Republicans "have nothing to offer." He declared that "the nation would say goodbye" to any bipartisan foreign policy "if the GOP gains control of congress."

Philip Murray, CIO president, called on labor to repudiate "every reactionary old guard Republican and southern poll-taxer" and added, in an address for the ABC and NBC networks:

"If reaction wins on Nov. 5, it will launch the most vicious assault on labor's rights in American history. Not only are the rights won by labor after years of struggle at stake in these elections, but indeed, organized labor's very right to live."

Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) told a reporter he will take no part in the campaign in its closing days. He was defeated, running as a Republican in the primary by Joseph R. McCarthy. The latter is being supported by Senator Wiley (R-Wis). McCarthy's Democratic opponent is Howard J. McMurray, former representative.

A Chicago civil committee announced at least 6,000 trained watchers will be at city polling places Tuesday to insure an honest election.

As the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France prepared to begin peace deliberations here Monday, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg formally asked the big four today to be included "from beginning to end" in the discussions on a peace treaty for Germany.

This request, announced by the state department in Washington, will be given to the big four when they sit down at an oval table of white pine in a Towers apartment drawing room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel where the peace for most of Europe will be decided.

Their task is to complete and sign peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is flying here tomorrow from Washington. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has already arrived. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Vice Foreign Minister Couve de Murville are scheduled to arrive on the Aquitania tomorrow.

At midnight tonight the strictest security will be thrown about two entire floors of the Waldorf-Astoria. Only the foreign ministers, their deputies and staffs will be permitted to enter these floors. The council chamber, which is located in one of the towers apartments on the 37th floor, will be under guard of American soldiers.

German States
GET SELF RULE

Governmental Duties To Be Turned Over To
People By U. S.

BY DON DOANE
Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 1 (AP)—The three German states in the American occupation zone will become virtually self-governing not later than Dec. 8, after voters have given final approval to their constitutions and elected legislative assemblies, U. S. Army headquarters said today.

After that date "only such activities as demilitarization and reparations" will be directly administered by the military government, since they are responsibilities which cannot be entirely assumed by the German civil government, the announcement said.

The military government will be only "observing, inspecting and advising" the self-chosen civil government, the army added. The AMG will have authority, however, to veto any action which clearly violates military objectives and to remove German public officials who violate its policies.

The three states are Greater Hesse, Wurttemberg-Baden and Bavaria.

In another move turning over to the Germans additional governmental duties the Darmstadt civilian internment camp, largest in the U. S. zone, was transferred today to German control. The step was regarded as giving German authorities virtually complete responsibility for de-Nazification in Greater Hesse.

KILLER TO DONATE EYE — Nathan Leopold, principal in a "thrill" murder that shocked the country 22 years ago, is one of a large number of convicts at Stateville penitentiary, Joliet, Ill., who have offered to donate their eyes after death to the Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc. Above, Dr. C. L. Garris, right, examines Leopold's cornea. In 1924, Leopold, now 41, was a brilliant 19-year-old Chicago college student when he and Richard Loeb, 18, having planned a "perfect murder," lured 14-year-old Bobby Franks into a car and viciously beat him to death for the excitement of it. They were quickly caught, tried, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. (NEA Photo.)

Labor Leader Promises
Plan For Quick End Of Allis-Chalmers Strike

Milwaukee, Nov. 1 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, in a statement today, promised a quick end to the Allis-Chalmers strike today as a spokesman for the CIO United Auto Workers union said that George F. Addes, international secretary-treasurer, would present a formula for quick solution of the troubled situation.

Milwaukee county sheriff George Hanley telegraphed Governor Walter S. Goodland that unless conditions at the strikebound plant changed by election day he feared that law enforcement agencies would be "unable to control the situation."

In contrast to the picket line violence of the four preceding days, all was serene at the gates of the mile-long machinery works in suburban West Allis today. One rain-drenched picket kept a solitary vigil as more than 1,800 non-striking production workers entered the factory this morning according to the company's figures.

Yesterday's melee which occurred as day shift workers left the plant, resulted in seven arrests and injury to four police officers. Authorities said there were less than 40 pickets at the main gates when the workers left this afternoon. There was no trouble.

Schwellenbach requested the company and the union to send representatives to a government conference in Washington at 10 a. m. (EST) Monday in an effort to "make a real and determined effort to resolve the issues by the process of free collective bargaining."

Schwellenbach's message was addressed to Walter Geist, president of Allis-Chalmers, and Robert Buse, president of local 248 UAW-CIO. Geist did not comment immediately and Buse was enroute from Washington to Milwaukee after conferring with U. S. conciliator Neel Fox.

Addes will present his "formula" for settlement of the strike at a union membership rally Sunday morning. The union's announcement said that Addes would offer "a formula which he states can settle the Allis-Chalmers strike within 24 hours."

Through a path that was slowly cleared for them, the king, queen and two princesses were escorted to their especially constructed and flower-decked box in the dress circle, but not before the police had backed their horses to the steps of the theater itself to keep the passage clear.

Others participating in the occasion, the first showing of the British picture, "A Matter of Life and Death," and "command performances" on the stage by internationally known stage and screen stars, were less fortunate in their entrances.

Ray Milland and Joan Bennett, two of the Hollywood representatives, were held up more than half an hour. Another American visitor, Dorothy Malone, fought her way with her escort to a side door and thrust through the crowd by clutching a camera and impersonating a press photographer.

Lansing Lobbyist's
Trial As Fugitive
Witness Adjourned

Detroit, Nov. 1 (AP)—His attorneys attempted to prove today that Charles F. Hemans told the Ingham county grand jury not to depend upon his testimony when it indicted 19 anti branch bank bill conspiracy defendants.

The trial of the former Lansing lobbyist before a federal jury on a fugitive witness charge was adjourned until Tuesday after a day of testimony by prosecution witnesses.

Hemans, former Army major and former University of Michigan regent, is due in Lansing at 10 a. m. Saturday to post $7,500 bond as a material witness in the bank bill examination scheduled to resume Jan. 6.

Tree Branch Kills
Newberry Resident
In Freak Accident

Newberry, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP)—Clarence Kibbey, 26, was injured fatally in a freak accident today as he and his brother, Daniel, chopped down a large birch tree.

As the tree toppled, it knocked a thick branch off a smaller tree and the branch struck Clarence on the head, crushing his skull.

Screaming Jewish Refugees Shipped
To Detention Camp

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, Nov. 1 (AP)—Despite screams of protest and some physical resistance 1,279 Jewish refugees were transferred at Haifa today from the almost foundering immigrant ship San Dimitrio to the British deportation vessels bound for detention camps on Cyprus. The ships were on their way tonight, an official announcement said.

In a new tactic against the deportation policy of the British, one Palestine Jew succeeded in obtaining a writ of habeas corpus in the Palestine supreme court for his brother, one of the immigrants aboard the ship. The court ordered a hearing expected to test the legality of sending uncertificated immigrants to Cyprus.

In London an authoritative government source, said the British colonial office had instructed the Palestine administration to release about 700 Jews, including top Jewish agency leaders, from the Latrun detention camp, where they had been held since the British raids of last June.)

The only major violence reported in the Holy Land today was an attack on two office clerks in Tel Aviv by three masked gunmen who escaped with satchels containing nearly $12,000.

Five British soldiers have been killed in the past three days, including two killed last night when their truck hit a road mine near the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv.

Preceding the transfer of the immigrants from the San Dimitrio, 2,000 Jews left a mass meeting in Haifa and marched on barricades thrown up in the port area by British troops. Signs on the barricades warned the marchers to "disperse or we fire" and they broke up after waving black flags of mourning and singing national songs.

The 2,000 marchers were part of the 60,000 Jews in Haifa who joined in a general protest strike lasting two hours and a half during the morning.

LONDON MOVIE

Bones Broken In Crush
At Premiere, King And Queen Held Up

London, Nov. 1 (AP)—A crush of fans that matched the most enthusiastic of Hollywood displays delayed for 15 minutes tonight the arrival of the royal family at its first officially sanctioned film premiere.

At least 10 persons suffered fractured arms or legs and more than 100 were given first aid treatment.

Despite efforts of mounted police riding three abreast and several deep, the regal entourage was stalled in a surging throng which had been building up throughout the day around the Empire theater in Leicester Square.

Through a path that was slowly cleared for them, the king, queen and two princesses were escorted to their especially constructed and flower-decked box in the dress circle, but not before the police had backed their horses to the steps of the theater itself to keep the passage clear.

Others participating in the occasion, the first showing of the British picture, "A Matter of Life and Death," and "command performances" on the stage by internationally known stage and screen stars, were less fortunate in their entrances.

Ray Milland and Joan Bennett, two of the Hollywood representatives, were held up more than half an hour. Another American visitor, Dorothy Malone, fought her way with her escort to a side door and thrust through the crowd by clutching a camera and impersonating a press photographer.

Standard Oil Co. Announces Bonus To Its Employees

The Standard Oil Company will pay its employees a cost-of-living bonus soon as a temporary measure, offered both to union and non-union workers, it was announced yesterday.

The amounts for salaried employees and wage earners will be a week's pay with $100 as the maximum. Commission employees will be paid bonus amounts in relation to the number of trucks they operate. The lump-sum payment is specified to cover the period of time to Jan. 15. Payment to employees not covered by union contracts will be made as soon as individual checks can be prepared, while checks to union employees will be made as soon as the offer is accepted by the unions.

Explaining the company's action on the bonus, W. J. Duncan, manager of the Green Bay division, issued a statement in which he said the company recognizes there has been an increase in the cost of living in recent weeks; but that it is possible that "the country may be passing through a peak in the cost of living curve."

The bonus to assist employees was adopted as a temporary measure, and it is expected that about 420 employees in the Green Bay division will receive it.

Housing Expediter Battles RFC Over $54,000,000 Loans

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—Housing expediter Wilson Wyatt went to the mat with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation tonight in a struggle over the granting of $54,000,000 in loans to launch an assembly-line housing industry.

RFC refused to grant a $32,000,000 credit to the Lustron Corporation of Chicago as well as smaller loans to other prefabricators despite Wyatt's recommendation that the money be made available.

In a late day conference with RFC board of directors, Wyatt threatened to serve a directive on the loan agency, forcing compliance through the extraordinary powers vested in him by the Emergency Housing (Patman) Act.

That information came from other officials. Wyatt issued only this brief statement after the session:

"The matter of directives was discussed with the RFC board as well as loans. Other discussions will be held in the next few days."

The fate of Wyatt's whole effort to develop mass production of steel and aluminum houses apparently hinged on the outcome, for virtually all the firms entering the new field want federal financing.

Meanwhile Wyatt announced that three new "premium payment" subsidy plans would go into effect this month, providing federal funds for extra output of galvanized sheet steel, carbon sheet steel, and some millwork items needed in the housing drive.

It appeared that other efforts of the housing chief to help the Lustron Corporation—which he regards as the best bet for an early start in assembly-line housing—will soon be contested in court.

Preston Tucker, president of the Tucker Corporation, told reporters tonight that his lawyers "definitely" would file injunction action by Monday night to prevent government-owned Chrysler-Dodge plant in Chicago, on which Tucker holds a lease. Tucker wants to make cars in it.

He said he believed Wyatt had been "misled"; that Lustron needed a fabricating plant instead of a machine-turret plant like the former tank-turret factory; and that Lustron "couldn't get into production for two years" in such quarters.

Frank Buck Injured In Chicago Taxicab

Chicago, (AP)—Frank Buck, 62, wild animal authority and explorer, suffered a deep cut over his right eye Thursday when the taxicab in which he was riding and an automobile collided while Buck was enroute to the Municipal airport.

Buck, of Van Nuys, Calif., was treated at Presbyterian hospital and released. Three others suffered minor injuries in the crash.

also visited at the home of Mrs. Fred Swanson.

Spalding Votes On New School

The qualified voters of Spalding township will at a special referendum to be held Monday, Nov. 4, vote on a proposal to provide funds for the construction of a new high school. The polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., and the voters will receive three ballots.

The first ballot contains the question of whether the tax limitation shall be increased for the next five years; the second the question of bonding the township for $87,000; and the third to determine the site for the proposed school.

Estimated cost of the proposed high school building for the Powers-Spalding community is $125,000 to $150,000.

The construction would be financed by the bond issue of $87,000 plus revenues from a 5 mill school building tax voted three years ago, and the sale of the Powers hall, owned by the school district.

Clement J. Sullivan, secretary of the board of education, is urging residents of the school district to attend a public meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Powers hall, where the coming referendum will be discussed. Questions will be invited and complete information on the matter will be available to the voters.

Fall Is Fatal To Joseph Simons, 76

Joseph Simons, 76, of Rapid River, died at 10 a. m. yesterday in St. Francis hospital of injuries suffered in a fall Oct. 29 at his shop in Rapid River.

Simons was fell 15 to 18 feet from a scaffold he had erected to repair the roof on his shop building. He suffered a concussion and other injuries. There were no witnesses to the accident and the mishap was not discovered until the aged man was found lying on the ground.

Little is known here of Simons' life, and Sheriff William E. Miron in company with Supervisor Joseph Casimir yesterday visited Simons' place in an effort to find the addresses of relatives. He is known to have a daughter in Saginaw, where his former wife also resides.

The body was taken to the Kelley funeral home in Gladstone. Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night.

The Mississippi river forms the entire eastern boundary of the state of Arkansas.

Greek is the source of the word "hippopotamus"; it means "river horse" in that tongue.

Some Halloween Pranks Reported

Halloween in Escanaba was not altogether without its destructive pranks, police reported yesterday. They agreed, however, that in the majority there were very few complaints.

One false fire alarm was turned in to the fire department at 9:56 p. m.; and Fred Fisher of 1306 11th avenue south reported to police yesterday morning that his chicken coop had been tipped over and the glass windows broken.

Mrs. Larence Paquin of 427 South 14th street reported to police that a baby stroller had been stolen about 10:30 p. m. from 220 South 11th street.

Cooks

A Halloween party was held at the Congregational church Sunday night for the Sunday school children.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Winkle Saturday evening for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamkey, Mr. and Mrs. George Hessler, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wolfing, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mauch and daughter Carol of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sill and Mr. and Mrs. William Winter of Van's Harbor.

Germfask

Mrs. Romeo Lawrence, Mrs. Mary Hudson, Mrs. John Washell, Miss Agnes Hudson and Mrs. Jacob Jolly motored to Powers Tuesday where they visited Mrs. Rosalie Lytle.

Mrs. Anna Skarritt and Matthew Skarritt attended the wedding of Mrs. Violet Leveille and Clayton Riley which was held at Manistique Saturday. Mrs. Riley is the former Violet Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith.

Three Boy Scout First Aid Teams Will Be Honored

First aid teams of the Boy Scout troops 444, 450 and 433 of Escanaba will be honored at a gathering of the above troops at the Junior high school, Monday evening at 7:00 p. m.

The presentation of honor emblems and certificates will be made by Dr. Rudolph Erickson of the health and safety committee of the Red Buck District. Twenty six Scouts from the above units will be recognized for outstanding work in first aid, having made a score of 90 per cent or better in contest participation.

Scoutmasters of the units to be recognized are asked to have their troop members present.

New Sweetness Has Been Found

Chicago—New sweetness has come to a world troubled with a sugar shortage. It is a new compound 4,000 times as sweet as cane sugar.

By far the sweetest substance known to man, the sugar substitute was developed in the Netherlands during the war, Prof. Pieter Eduard Verkade of Delft Technical University reported to the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society here. The sweetening agent is now being manufactured in Europe, and an application for an American patent has been filed.

The new sweetening agent is derived from benzene and chemically is 1-n-propoxy-2-amino-4-nitrobenzene of n-propoxy for short. On your tongue, the tiniest pinch of the substance would still be tasted a half hour later, Prof. Verkade reported.

Saccharin, the common sugar substitute derived from coal tar, is only 200 to 700 times as sweet as sugar, compared with the new compound's 4,000 times as sweet. Another substitute, dulcine, is 70 to 250 times as sweet. At your

The diamond was badly neglected during the war years but was resurfaced last spring and another season's improvement should see it back in its classification as one of the finer playing fields in the U. P.

Kim Must Be Desperate

The following item appeared in last Sunday's Milwaukee Journal:

Publicity Charge Levelled at Sigler

By the Associated Press

Democrat Murray D. Van Wagoner high lighted his campaign for the governorship Friday night at Detroit, Mich., with a charge that Kim Sigler, his Republican rival, wanted to be fired as grand jury special prosecutor to get "publicity for his announcement that he was a candidate for governor."

In a radio address, Van Wagoner declared, "Kim Sigler wrote Judge Coash (Grand Juror Louis E. Coash) a letter designed to leave the judge no choice but to fire him. Reading the letter, one must conclude that Sigler hoped he would be thrown in jail for contempt because that would have made him even more publicity for his announcement."

Meanwhile Sigler at Pontiac assailed both the Democratic party and his own Republicans for "silly" performances recently. The GOP candidate said the Republicans had been "stupidly conservative."

Need we say more . . .

Except . . .

We believe that most Republicans will resent being called "Stupid."

New Potato Records

A 23-YEAR old farmer, Jerome DeBacker, of Cornell, whose farm is across the Delta county line in Marquette county, this year produced the record yield of 730 bushels of potatoes per acre on a 10-acre plot, the highest yield ever recorded in Michigan. The previous record, 715 bushels per acre, incidentally was established by his father, Emil DeBacker, of St. Nicholas, two years ago.

Despite his tremendous yield, the youthful DeBacker failed to win either the Upper Peninsula premier tablestock or certified seed growers contests because of a technicality in the judging rules. DeBacker was entered in the certified growers contest on another plot which did not produce this record yield because of frost and adverse growing conditions. As an entry in the certified growers contest, he was ineligible to compete in the tablestock division, but his record 730 bushel yield did not pass unnoticed at the U. P. potato show in Iron River.

Although DeBacker's record was established in Marquette county, the Delta County Potato Boosters association deserves considerable credit for its influence and encouragement to Jerome, who is in reality a native of Delta county.

In addition to Jerome DeBacker's record achievement, revealed at the U. P. show, Delta county growers won both the first and second places in the certified growers contest. Fulgenz Falkies, of Cornell, topped the certified honors with a yield of 619 bushels per acre and Jerome DeBacker's father, Emil, placed second in this contest, a yield of 597 bushels per acre. Experimenting this year with irrigation, the first Upper Peninsula potato grower to install a watering system, Emil DeBacker gave promise of producing a fantastic yield which some potato experts predicted might reach 1,000 bushels per acre. The Labor Day frost, which lowered yields all over this section, killed that hope.

The yield of all growers in the Upper Peninsula this season totaled 5,000,000 bushels, largest in the area's history.

These figures, combined with the excellent quality of Upper Peninsula potatoes, belie those who have spread the falsehood that Upper Peninsula agriculture cannot meet the keen competition of such potato growing areas as Maine and Idaho.

Trade Expansion

MERCHANTS of Escanaba and other shopping centers likely will be interested in a report of research on the "law of retail gravitation" made recently by Dr. P. D. Converse, professor of marketing at the University of Illinois.

When the getting of adequate stocks of merchandise no longer becomes a problem, merchants will again be giving serious attention to the matter of attracting more shoppers from outlying areas.

There are several factors in the development of a community as a shopping center. First of all, it must have attractive well-managed stores, stocked with varied lines of merchandise at reasonable prices.

According to Professor Converse, poor roads, traffic congestion or lack of parking facilities will rob a shopping community of much retail business it could be getting. He also points out that since most shopping is done by women, nowadays, it would be a good idea to improve the quality or the variety of goods available in the women's fashion departments.

Most merchants are well aware of the merchandising methods that Professor Converse suggests, however. It is of importance to educate the citizens of a community concerning the value of trade in terms of extra jobs and wealth, so that they will concern themselves about such matters as good transportation, parking lots and other conveniences for visiting shoppers.

The End of the World

OCTOBER 17 is well out of the way and the world is still here, notwithstanding the direful prediction of Charles G. Long, Pasadena's prophet of doom, that it would end on that date.

However, when making this deadly forecast, the 73-year-old religious cult leader said that the great event could just as well be 10 years from the above date, depending on how the student translates the Biblical calendar. So a grateful world is getting a respite of a few years. Or perhaps it isn't so very grateful, for most people will agree that the apprehensive Mr. Long didn't know what he was talking about.

And yet, in a very real sense, it may be that the old world did end on October 17. That was the day when a group of murderous assassins paid with their lives at Nuremberg for their crimes beyond all telling in their magnitude and horror. The human race finally took a new stand in the matter of aggressive warfare, and to that extent, at least, the old world is dead and buried, let us hope for good.

He's Not Indispensable

FROM day to day the noose draws tighter around the neck of Francisco Franco, dictator of Spain. The latest authority to condemn him is no less a personage than Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations. Says Secretary Lie: "It is an unhappy fact that the Fascist control of Spain has continued unchanged despite the defeat of Germany and Japan. It seems to be clear that as long as the Franco regime remains in Spain, it will remain a constant cause of mistrust and disagreement between the founders of the United Nations. It is therefore my hope that those who gave us victory and peace may also find ways and means by which liberty and democratic government may be restored in Spain."

It was Hitler and Mussolini that brought Franco to power, and he has aided the Axis by all means in his power and as much as he dared. It is plainer than ever that Franco must succumb in favor of some such progressive Republic. One would think from the anti-democratic efforts that are being made to retain Franco in power that he were the indispensable man. The world and Spain will be better for Franco's going. He is a thorn in the side of democracy, which must be removed before Spain can hold up her head among the nations. How the United Nations organization would go about it to assure a free election in Spain poses quite a problem, however.

YOUTH LOSES A FRIEND

(Grand Rapids Press)

When Ernest Thompson Seton died Wednesday American youth lost one of its greatest friends and one of its favorite authors. Not many boys of the last few generations grew up without coming under his influence, either through his numerous books on nature or his association with the Boy Scouts. One of the founders of the Scout movement, Seton was chairman of the committee which set up the organization and he was the author of the Scout's first handbook, an encyclopedia of fascinating information and advice which boys universally have cherished.

He had a long list of books to his credit, all of them devoted to the outdoors, and all of them packed with nature lore. His most famous work unquestionably is "Wild Animals I Have Known," written in 1898, but such volumes as "Two Little Savages," with Seton's own illustrations and crammed with woodcraft of a practical order, will continue to be perennial favorites with American boys and girls as long as there are woods, streams and fields to explore in their country.

Ernest Seton's books once were the object of attack by the late John Burroughs, the naturalist, who charged their author with being a "nature faker." Subsequently, Burroughs retracted, the two men became fast friends and joined forces in persuading congress to pass a bill for the conservation of migratory birds. More recently Seton's accounts of wild animal life have been questioned by earnest young nature "debunkers"—but whatever evaluation the scientists ultimately may put on them, the Seton books will continue to be classed among the most readable in the juvenile library.

HOW TO PREVENT CRIME

(Detroit News)

In the interest of "Crime Prevention Week," a police commissioner who is a familiar figure in the radio dramas built around the activities of criminals, has asked for suggestions from the public on how to prevent crime.

We have one idea to offer—that there be a more carefully studied consideration of the effect produced on youth by over-emphasis on the dramatic values of crime both in the movies and on the radio.

The inevitable ending, which seeks to prove that "crime does not pay," can scarcely cancel out the bad effect of all that goes before. Most of these plug-uglies are eufemisms. The drama which portrays them as harder and more resourceful than they are by nature simply feeds their vanity and encourages wayward youth to emulate them.

It is at least an interesting coincidence that the era in which the "expose" of the criminal has been worked to death by the radio and Hollywood has also seen the greatest increase in the crime rate in our history. The two trends may not be directly connected, but it is at least time to ask ourselves the question.

Answer: No. Jew evolved thus: Hebrew Yehudi ("one belonging to Judah"); Greek Ioudaios; Latin Iudaeus; Old French ju; English Jew. The word jewel stems in the Latin jocus, "play; jest; toy; plaything," the same word from which "joke" derives.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

St. Louis—The unkindest blow of all is the blow that comes from the folks back home. All reports agree that President Truman will be repudiated in his native Missouri come next Tuesday.

Two years ago President Roosevelt carried the state by a very slim margin. His lead for the entire state was 46,280 votes out of a total of more than a million and a half. And that lead was due to a heavy democratic vote rolled up here in St. Louis.

Today the Roosevelt magnet is sadly lacking. The voice played over the radio is not good enough. The exploitation of the Roosevelt name may end merely in discrediting Roosevelt's policies and program.

The two chief contestants in Missouri are Senator Frank P. Briggs, Democrat, and the challenger, James P. Kem, Republican. Briggs is a small-time politician. Kem is a rich and successful corporation lawyer.

—APATHY IN MISSOURI—

Neither man has any popular following in the state. They make the familiar Democratic noises and that is the sum total of a campaign which appears to be notable chiefly for the resounding apathy it has stimulated. This is a sad commentary on the State of Benton, Jim Reed, Champ Clark and the other thunderers who in their time were popular heroes.

According to Curtis A. Betts, veteran political analyst for the Post-Dispatch, Kem will come up to St. Louis with a majority from out-state of 40,000. Not even the most optimistic Democrat is ready to believe that Briggs can overcome that lead in the city.

There is still the factor of the Pendegast machine in Kansas City. But it is a dubious factor. The machine has fallen away since the days of Boss Tom and the question of divided loyalty is a real one.

Over on the other side of the state the Democratic party is split wide open. The split came over Representative Roger C. Slaughter. Slaughter, a lawyer representing important business interests in Kansas City, was elected to Congress as a Democrat. Then he got himself made a member of the all-powerful rules committee.

As a member of that committee, Slaughter voted to block President Truman's key proposals. He joined such bitter-end Republicans as Representative Clarence J. Brown who is now speech-making up and down the land declaring that when the Republicans come in, they will fire half the "bureaucrats" on the federal payroll, a "bureaucrat" being by implied definition a Democrat.

Quite naturally President Truman opposed Slaughter for renomination. After all, Slaughter opposed everything that a Democratic president and a Democratic platform professed to believe in. Thereupon Slaughter was endowed in the conservative and reactionary press with the qualities of a white knight in shining armor.

Slaughter has said that he will vote for the Democratic candidate who defeated him in the primary, Enos A. Axtell. But meanwhile he has been embarrassing the administration in every possible way. A sizable number of Democratic votes cast for the Republican candidate, Albert L. Reeves, Jr., could result in the repudiation of Mr. Truman in the congressional district next door to the one in which he himself votes. And that would be the unkindest blow of all, since the President went so far as to intervene publicly in this contest.

That the voters are indifferent and apathetic is not to be wondered at. The surprising thing is that there is any interest at all in the election. Again and again the choice is between Republican Tweedledee and Democratic Tweedledum.

The Democrats at present have seven congressional seats in Missouri, the Republicans six. The GOP may capture as many as four or five of the Democratic seats. Even Clarence Cannon, who has ridden the escalator of seniority of the chairmanship of a key house committee, may be defeated. Cannon, in his point of view, is hardly distinguishable from a Republican.

The political labels we use are so meaningless. Of course, now and then you get a simon-pure product such as Representative Dewey Short of the Ozarks. Short, who wears the Republican label, is pure demagogue. What he may have learned in the course of an extensive education that took him to some of the leading universities of the world seems not to have inhibited him at all.

By virtue of the same seniority escalator, Short will be one of the key figures in a house organized by the Republicans. He may even get the chairmanship of a key committee that will give the power to block and obstruct, yes, it's a wonderful political system we have—when it works.

in pronunciation?—H. M.

Answer: Here are a few, but there may be many more: hose, dose, lose, gone, lone, blood, food, good; fussy, hussy, pussy.

Beaumont: Your recent article on "raising" and "rearing" of children brings to mind a remark I heard thirty-odd years ago in Arkansas. I asked an old fellow where he was raised. The old fellow said: "I was raised in Arkansas."

Looks Like We're Stuck With It!

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

UNOFFICIAL "KING"—It is truly unfortunate that Jerome DeBacker, son of Emil DeBacker, 1944 state potato "king", is unable this year to officially claim that title since he has established a state-wide record of 730 bushels an acre. His father, Emil, had a yield of 715 bushels an acre two years ago.

Why is it that Jerome DeBacker's all-time record cannot be officially recognized? Many people have asked that question, and here is the answer as given by R. H. Kaven, Marquette county agricultural agent, in whose county Jerome's farm is located.

For the purpose of the annual potato growing contest farmers must elect at the beginning of the season whether they will enter the certified potato growing division, or the tablestock division. They cannot enter both.

Jerome DeBacker decided to register as a certified grower, but he made his record production in tablestock. Therefore his record is unofficial.

CANNOT BE CHANGED—Several weeks ago, when there were the first rumors that a new Michigan "potato king" had appeared on the scene, we telephoned the Marquette agricultural agent to verify the report. Mr. Kaven was properly enthusiastic over the record made by Jerome DeBacker, unofficial though it was.

"We would prefer not to have an announcement on it until the Marquette county Potato Show," said Kaven, "for we plan to give Jerome DeBacker recognition for his fine record. We would appreciate it if the story was held off until it is announced at the show."

This request was agreed to, and the first publicity came after the Marquette county Potato Show last week. Kaven was sorry, he said, that Jerome DeBacker's record could not be officially recognized. The registration could not be changed, however, and young DeBacker stands as the king without a crown.

WHICH COUNTY—Perhaps readers may wonder why Jerome DeBacker, who receives his mail at Cornell, should be a Marquette county potato grower.

The reason is that Jerome's "potato ranch" is located in Marquette county just over the Delta county line. He moved there from St. Nicholas, where his father, Emil, had a large potato farm until a short time ago when he sold it for $35,000, less stock and equipment to Jules VanDamme. The DeBackers, father and son, really got their start in Delta county, and the son moved a short distance north and over the line into Marquette county to open up a new place of his own on the old Johnson "ranch."

Jerome calls his place "the ranch." As a registered certified grower he had 15 acres in russet rurals. In addition he had another tract in tablestock potatoes—and it was on these that he set the unofficial record. The soil was new, and it had never before been planted to potatoes.

WHAT IT MEANS—Some folks, whose acquaintance with potatoes is confined to consuming them baked, boiled, fried or escalloped, may not fully understand the honor—unofficial though it is—that has come to Jerome De-

10 Years Ago—1936

Snow, cold rains and falling temperatures hampered communications today in a certain raiser for the stormy weather forecast for election day tomorrow.

Students of the Escanaba Senior high school will elect officers for the sophomore, junior and senior classes during the balance of the week.

Clara Karas, a student at Northern State Teacher's college, has been pledged to Tau Pi Mu sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Martin, 210 South Ninth street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Escanaba played the hardest football schedule this year: a survey of 17 leading upper peninsula teams shows.

Two north side establishments were entered by burglars Saturday night. The thieves took a number of penny post cards and postage stamps and they ransacked the office in such a way that damage amounted to more than the property stolen.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Harder of Wells, returned yesterday from a 10 day visit in the East, during which time they attended the golden wedding celebration of Mr. Harder's parents at Williamsport, Pa.

Gladstone—Four valuable canary birds were lost and damage roughly estimated at about 300 dollars, the greater part of it smoke damage, as a result of a blaze in the kitchen of the John Neville home Monday morning.

Yvonne Pilon spent Sunday with relatives in Isabella.

Backer, First of all, keep in mind that DeBacker grew 730 bushels of potatoes an acre, and then read the following: There are 219 farmers in the Upper Peninsula who averaged more than 300 bushels an acre. Of this total, 41 are in Marquette county, and 40 in Delta county.

In Delta county, of the 40 who averaged 300 bushels an acre or more, only six in the tablestock division (which was the division in which DeBacker might have registered) went above 400 bushels an acre. And only one of the six, Vernon Wick, hit 500 bushels even. Contrast that with DeBacker's unofficial yield of 730 bushels and you begin to understand the full significance of his record.

In the certified division in Delta county, practically all of the growers went above 300 bushels an acre, and below 700 bushels. Highest yield in the certified division was made by Fulgenz Falkies and his son, Frank, with 619 bushels—which is still below Jerome DeBacker's unusual record. Next highest in the county was Emil DeBacker, Jerome's father, who attained a yield of 597 bushels an acre. (Back in 1944 Emil set an official state record with 715 bushels an acre.)

POTATO COUNTRY—Jerome DeBacker, as his father did two years ago, has again directed the attention of the entire state to the Upper Peninsula potato industry. Such unusual yields may be nearly a matter of "luck." Mostly they are the result of hard work and scientific farming methods.

D. L. Clannahan, Marquette, extension crops specialist in the Upper Peninsula, has reported that the 1946 crop in the U. P. is 5 million bushels—one-third of the

Q. Is retirement pay for length of service in the armed forces subject to withholding tax?

A. Yes.

Q. For the purpose of readjustment allowances, how is "partial unemployment" defined?

A. Generally a veteran is deemed to be partially unemployed in any week during which he works less than his normal customary full-time hours because of lack of work and earned less than $23 dollars.

Q. Under the G. I. Bill of Rights is it possible to obtain a loan guarantee to buy an automobile?

A. Yes; but only if an automobile is necessary and is to be actually used in the conduct of a business or a farming operation.

Q. What is a touch stone?

A. A hard glass stone used for testing precious metals by observing the color of the streaks when the metal is rubbed against it.

Q. Please print a recipe for rhubarb pie.

A. Cut rhubarb into pieces one-inch long, wash, and stew slowly. It is not necessary to add water as enough water adheres to stalks from washing. When thoroughly cooked, mash the stalks fine, put in a small piece of butter, when cold, sweeten to taste, sprinkle with a little cinnamon or nutmeg and bake between two crusts. This may be thickened with corn starch mixed with cold water. Use about a heaping tablespoon full of corn starch to a pie and boil until clear and thick.

Q. What is a bulldozer?

A. A caterpillar tractor with an attachment for pushing earth ahead of it.

Q. What makes water hard?

A. The presence of calcium or magnesium salts which combine with soap to form insoluble substances.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—One healthy thing about a democracy is that it puts its public servants under intense public scrutiny. If the investigating committees of Congress and the newspapermen of Washington are on their toes, they can usually ferret out the things that are bad about a congressman, while the good things shine out of their own like a beacon light.

Thus the shocking war-contract operations of Mississippi's Senator Bilbo, the amazing war-lobbying of Kentucky's Congressman May, the cotton speculation of Senator Elmer Thomas's family—all Democrats—are now well known.

But one of democracy's difficulties is that an electorate frequently does not have time to scrutinize a new candidate before he is swept into office.

Last week, for instance, this column called attention to the fact that G. O. P. candidate Fred Danner of Akron, Ohio, now seeking to draw pay from the federal government as a congressman, had not thought enough of his federal government to pay it taxes during 1939, 1940 and 1941.

However, this column was remiss. It was not able at that time to dig up all the facts. Here are some more:

Despite Mr. Danner's three-year rebellion against paying his own taxes, he was quite eager to print income tax blanks for other people to pay theirs. His printing office has just about finished printing $2,334,000 worth of income tax blanks for the federal government.

Mr. Danner also was able to get another nice contract from the treasury department despite his hesitation about paying it taxes. Last year he printed a million and a half illustrated war-bond promotion books which the treasury sent out to school children in order to educate them about their government, its bonds and its finances.

Thus while loath to pay taxes, candidate Danner was not loath to profit from money raised through other people's taxes.

—DID DANNER COVER UP?—

And here are some further interesting facts about the Ohio candidate for congress which the average voter hasn't time to investigate. When Danner ran in the G. O. P. primaries, he listed Dorothy Keck as contributing $200. That is a sizable gift—especially since Miss Keck at that time was unemployed and had even gone to Uncle Sam to get $17 a week unemployment compensation.

Danner also listed John Lebedoff as giving him $500—another sizable contribution, especially since his family appeared so hard up that Mrs. Lebedoff at that time was drawing $19 a week unemployment compensation. Furthermore neither Lebedoff nor his wife, though supposedly so strong for Danner that they gave him $500, took the trouble to vote for him.

Danner also listed $250 from M. G. Pader, $250 from Art Burns, and $250 from Fred J. Johnson. Again these are sizable contributions. Yet these three men who allegedly gave $750 between them didn't care enough about Danner to go out and vote for him.

Danner also listed a $250 gift from Ted Furdyn. It seems strange, however, that Mr. Furdyn should give this much money to a Republican, when the records show he voted the Democratic ticket.

These facts naturally raise the question as to whether the above people really contributed the money Danner said they did, or were they just "cover-ups."

NOTE—Personally, this columnist has nothing against Mr. Danner, merely reports the above as an illustration of how congressional candidates need to be scrutinized in every district—before election day, not afterward. If this column had the time to investigate each candidate and state, it would gladly do so. Unfortunately, it can't. Unfortunately also, some local newspapers which could dig out the facts, don't—particularly in Akron.

—BIG MONEY IN SOUTH DAKOTA—

Congressman Karl Mundt, South Dakota Republican, was speaking before an AVC group in Huron, S. D., which quizzed him about G. O. P. money sent into South Dakota all the way from Pennsylvania and Delaware by the Pew and Du Pont families. Mundt was asked specifically about references to Pew and Du Pont contributions previously reported in this column.

"Sometimes Drew Pearson tells the truth," the congressman told the veterans, "and sometimes he doesn't tell the truth. President Roosevelt called him a chronic liar, but I don't think he is quite that bad."

Regardless of this column's veracity, however, the records of South Dakota contributions are not subject to debate. They are a matter of official record in the files of the speaker of the House of Representatives, in which Congressman Mundt sits. As previously reported in this column, these files show that in 1942 the Du Ponts, Mellons, Pews, Col. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, Iro Copley of the Copley Press, Max E. Jarman of the General Shoe Company, contributed a total of $53,700 to Senator Bushfield's re-election in South Dakota.

"Plenty of Beef"—headline. But too much of it is coming from the wrong side of the counter.

Delta County

has ALWAYS been a GOOD place to LIVE and WORK

To most people home is the center of everything . . . To us, that home is Delta County . . . its churches, schools, stores, manufacturing plants, parks, lakes, streams are ours in which to worship, educate our children, shop, work and play.

A long time ago the American Indian settled in this region. They liked it here . . . because it was a good place to establish a home . . . on the shore of a lake—on the side of a hill protected by towering timber . . . They liked it here because it was a good place to provide for a livelihood for the family . . . gain a little surplus for lean days . . . and they found endless enjoyment in these same lakes, streams and hills.

The timber has gone . . . in place of wigwams have arisen modern homes to shelter the people in DELTA COUNTY.

The hills, woods, and waters no longer provide a livelihood . . . instead we work and earn and save in manufacturing, stores, farms and offices.

As a living symbol of the everlasting charms of nature . . . the natural beauty of DELTA COUNTY remains much the same as when the Indians found happiness, a home and good living here. From time to time, we have been able to add a little something . . . a church, a school, a factory, a park, a play ground . . . that has made it easier for us all . . . for our children . . . to enjoy that which we inherited from the Indians many, many years ago.

We are proud to be a part of DELTA COUNTY . . . we live here for the same reasons that everyone does . . . because it is a good place in which to live, worship, work and play.

Miss Cafmeyer,
Emil Verbrigghe
Wed At Perkins

A nuptial high mass on Oct. 26 at St. Joseph church of Perkins united two prominent St. Nicholas young people when Miss Madeline Cafmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Cafmeyer, became the bride of Emil Verbrigghe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Verbrigghe. The church choir sang the music of the mass, at which the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Coignard officiated. The bride wore a white gown which had a satin bodice and long pointed sleeves, the bouffant skirt extending in a long train of marquisette. In her hair was a coronet of orange blossoms which held in place her fingertip veil. Her jewelry was a gold cross, gift from the bridegroom, and she carried white chrysanthemums tied with shower streamers.

The bride's sister and maid of honor, Miss Gabriel Cafmeyer, wore a gown of pink satin with matching Juliet cap, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. Miss Cecile Verbrigghe, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Her gown was of blue net over taffeta. She wore a matching Juliet cap and carried a colonial bouquet.

Tony Lippens performed the duties of best man, and Gerard Van Damme served as usher.

Immediately following the ceremony, breakfast was served to members of the two families at the Cafmeyer home. At five o'clock in the afternoon, 42 guests attended a reception and dinner there. White tapers in crystal holders were arranged beside the large cake which centered the dinner table. Later, a wedding dance was held at the Cornell hall.

Mrs. Cafmeyer appeared in a blue wool suit with black accessories, and Mrs. Verbrigghe chose a dress of black chiffon velvet with matching accessories. Purple and pink chrysanthemums formed their corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Verbrigghe will make their home at Rumley, where the bridegroom owns a farm. Mrs. Verbrigghe is a graduate of the Rock high school, class of 1944.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Doom and children Mary and George, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cab of Milwaukee; Mrs. Paul Gaudette, Miss Marie Wilmette of Perkins; Mrs. Arthur DeCook of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Falkeis and Mr. and Mrs. Fulgenz Falkeis of Cornell.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Special Session Called To Consider Bid On Ore Dock Site

A special meeting of the Escanaba city council will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in city hall for the purpose of considering the city's bid for the proposed purchase from the federal government of the ore dock site on the north bay shore.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said that he has been informed by the War Assets Administration that Nov. 6 is the deadline set by the WAA to receive bids for the sale of the property as government surplus.

The city has already submitted two bids previously at the request of the government. The third bid is necessary because the War Assets Administration has made an appraisal of the property and has called for new bids. The city yesterday was informed of the matter, and was asked to reconsider and submit a higher bid.

The city council seeks the ore dock site for a two-fold purpose. The western section of the area is proposed to be developed as a city-county airport, while the shore area to the east would be used by the city as a site for industrial development.

Jenkins and Ward Recommended To Head U. P. Guard

Marquette—Col. Loren W. Jenkins and Maj. Leonard C. Ward, both of Escanaba, were named commander and operations officer, respectively, of the 107th Engineer Combat Battalion, Upper Peninsula unit of Michigan National Guard, at the U. P. organizational board meeting here Wednesday.

Official appointment of the two men as commanding officer and S-3 of the new battalion awaits the formality of Federal recognition, it was pointed out by Lt. Col. George C. Quinnell, Marquette, organizational board chairman. Other appointments will be announced later.

The board meeting was held in conjunction with the reorganization dinner-meeting at the Palesstra at which time Brig. Gen. Owen J. Cleary, deputy chief of staff, Lansing, outlined the new Michigan National Guard setup. The session was the last of six meetings held throughout the state for the purpose of reorganizing the Guard.

General Cleary issued a challenge to citizens' committees to cooperate to the fullest extent in organization of the Guard in Marquette, Calumet, Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba. The current goal in the state is enlistment of 4,000 men by the end of 1946.

WEDGE PLANT PRODUCTION UP

Now Operate Two Shifts, Await Machines To Increase Force

Marked increase in production at the wood wedge division plant of the Insulation Manufacturers corporation, located in the Birds Eye Veneer company grounds; is reported by A. W. Pierce, plant manager.

The wood wedge plant was established by the Chicago manufacturing concern almost two years ago. Production during the past six months has been about double the total output for the previous 12 months, Mr. Pierce said.

Delivery of new machinery is awaited for the manufacture of new styles of wedges, which will provide employment for a few more persons. At present, the small industry is operating in two shifts, 7 to 3:30 p. m. and 3 to 11:30 p. m. Besides Mr. Pierce and an office secretary, 12 men are now employed.

The local plant makes wood wedges for electric motors and generators in 49 standard sizes and 10 different styles. Stock orders are cut in 30 inch lengths, ranging from 1/16 to 5/16 of an inch in thickness and 1-8 to 3-8 of an inch in width. The wedges are wrapped 200 pieces in a bundle, and the daily output is now 600 bundles of wedges or 300,000 lineal feet.

Hard maple veneer is used as the raw material in the manufacture of the wedges, which are used in motors shipped to all parts of the world.

A. S. Gray, Chicago, is president of the Insulation Manufacturers corporation.

and Jamaica. Here they were particularly interested in two groups of problems similar to those with which they have to deal in Java: the economic and land-use aspects of sugar cultivation, and the difficulties presented by an over-crowded population with a low standard of living.

Soil Conservation Studied By Dutch

Washington—American experience in soil conservation and land utilization will soon be put to work in the reconstruction of agriculture in the Netherlands East Indies. A nine-man commission representing the government of the islands, under the chairmanship of Dr. J. van Baren, is now completing a three-months' mission in the United States. After a visit to their European homeland, which most of them have not seen since 1939 or earlier, they will return to their headquarters in Java.

In addition to studying American techniques, particularly in the Southeast, the commission has visited the islands of Puerto Rico

It's The American Way ...

Whether you're Republican or Democrat ... you must admit that the most important thing is that each of us, poor or rich, have the same weight on election day. It's the American Way ... a good way ... where each man may have his say ... may state his convictions unafraid.

One of the other rights of every American is rest and relaxation after the day's work is done. To many of us, rest and relaxation means an easy chair and a bottle of Good Beer. ## Seek Information Concerning Miss Jane Anny Logan

Persons in Escanaba and vicinity who know Miss Jane Anny Logan, now in Germany, are requested to supply such information to County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen.

The county clerk has had referred to him a letter from Judge Matthew J. Jansen of the Military Government Court at Heidelberg, Germany, in which Judge Jansen seeks information concerning Miss Logan's citizenship.

Judge Jansen wrote that Miss Logan claims she is an American citizen, was born in Escanaba in 1925, and lived here until 1937.

The county clerk reports there is no recorded birth under that name in his office, but that it is possible the birth of Miss Logan was never recorded originally. Persons who can give information concerning Miss Logan are requested to telephone the office of the county clerk.

Pork Back Again In Australia

Sydney (AP)—Pork is on sale in Australia again for the first time since the government took it off the civilian market December 6, 1943.

Since then 8,000,000 pigs have been slaughtered. The baconers were exported to Britain, and fresh pork was sent to Australian and American service men in the Pacific who had an aversion to Australian mutton.

The government lifted the prohibition on pork sales Sept. 1, but it was slow to appear in butcher shops.

Powers-Spalding Vote On $125,000 School Building

A $125,000 Powers-Spalding high school building project awaits approval of electors of the Spalding township school district at a special election on Monday. Spalding voters will make two trips to the polls next week, returning on Tuesday to vote in the biennial state and county election.

The school proposal would authorize the board of education to levy an additional 20 mills for five years and to issue bonds in the amount of $87,000 against this levy. The assessed valuation of the township is almost $1,000,000, so the extra levy would raise approximately $20,000 a year.

Spalding township was the first in Menominee county to set up a sinking fund for a new school building. It approved a 5 mill increase for five years in 1943. This has been levied for the past four years but only raises about $5,000 a year, which is inadequate for the building program. This original 5 mill levy has one more year to go, so if the new increase is approved Monday, the taxpayers will pay 40 mills (including the regular 15 mills) in 1947, and 35 mills for the succeeding four years.

Spalding township school authorities and residents have long felt that the present Powers-Spalding high school has outlived its usefulness. The building is not fireproof, being of wood frame construction and though every available foot of space is utilized, including most of the basement, classrooms are crowded and student instruction is handicapped.

Proponents of the bond issue also state that improved facilities in the high school would give Spalding-Powers high a better rating on the college accredited list and would open avenues for increased revenue by accepting tuition students from neighboring townships, who now attend other high schools.

Besides the two proposals on raising the levy and issuing the bonds, Spalding school district electors also will vote on a change of location for the new building.

Negaunee Hunter Accident Victim

A Negaunee hunter, Bitanti Palini of 213 Marquette street, Negaunee, was seriously injured Thursday in a Marquette county hunting accident, according to a report received by officers at the district conservation office in Escanaba yesterday. Palini was wounded in the left side and right foot by buckshot while he was carrying a rabbit he had shot. Conservation officers said it was believed the shot that wounded Palini was fired by his hunting companion, whose name was not reported to them here.

The present high school is located at the south end of the village of Spalding west of US-41 and the school board has taken an option on a new site, comprising 20 acres and located on the east side of US-41 between the intersection with US-2, and Parker's Inn. The present site is hemmed in by railroad tracks, roads and the Big Cedar river, precluding any expansion development.

Quinn-Wiltzius

Miss Alice Francis Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quinn, city, was united in marriage to Bernard J. Wiltzius, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Wiltzius, city, at a nuptial high mass celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaul Thursday morning in All Saints' church.

Pink, white and yellow baby mums decorated the altars for the occasion. Music of the mass was sung by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. C. A. LaFave, organist.

The bride was charming in a suit of shark tooth green with accessories of black. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a silver rosary.

Attending her as maid of honor was Theresa Quinn of Milwaukee, sister of the bride. She wore a suit of white with black accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Clarence Wiltzius, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A wedding breakfast for members of the bridal party was served at Belle's Coffee Shop in Escanaba shortly after the ceremony. A reception was held during the day at the home of the bride's parents. The home was prettily decorated with roses and baby mums and the table was centered by a wedding cake topped by miniature white doves.

Mrs. Quinn, mother of the bride, wore a black dress with white accessories and corsage of pink baby mums while Mrs. Wiltzius, mother of the groom, wore a blue dress with black accessories and corsage of white baby mums.

The couple are noneymooning in the Copper Country and later will visit at Detroit. Upon their return they will reside at 309 Minnesota avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone high school, Class of 1940, and has been employed at the A & P store. The groom, recently separated from the U. S. Army after four years of service, is employed by the Wadham's Oil Co., at Escanaba.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss Theresa Quinn of Milwaukee, Miss Helen Wiltzius of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quinn of Manistique, Mrs. Ralph Kasten of Detroit, Mrs. Clarence Harter of Norway and Mrs. Dorothy Richer of Escanaba.

Pink and Blue Shower
Mrs. Harold Pelkey was the guest of honor at a pink and blue shower held Tuesday night at the home of a friend, Mrs. Armand Ducheny.

Forty-four guests were present with games furnishing the diversion. In five hundred, the winners were Mrs. Charles Lemerand and Mrs. George Kennedy; in snear, Mrs. Paul Snouwart and Mrs. Adam Sinclair; in another game, Mrs. Merlin Godfrey and Mrs. Robertson. A special award went to Mrs. Tom Elegreet.

A tasty lunch was served at the close. A Halloween motif was used in decorating the home. The party was arranged by Mrs. J. N. Raiche and Mrs. Armand Ducheny.

TRAPPERS GIVEN FINE

2 Lower Michigan Men Pay $10.00 And Costs

Munising—Arthur Zoerman, age 32, of Route 6, Holland, Michigan was arrested on Thursday, October 31 for illegally trapping muskrat before the opening of the season, conservation officer H. C. Carlson reported.

Zoerman was arraigned before Justice of the Peace, John Vezina on Thursday and paid a fine of $10.00 and costs of $6.85.

Steward Goff, also of Lower Michigan, was arrested and brought in by conservation officer Clyde Lambert of Grand Marais for using and having in his possession in an area frequented by game, traps without tags, it was reported.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Vezina Friday morning, Goff was fined $10.00 and costs of $6.85.

Conservation Theme Of Rotary Address

Munising—William DeBruyn, Mather high school instructor, addressed the meeting of the Munising Rotary club, Tuesday noon at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. DeBruyn, scoutmaster of the Rotary-sponsored Scout Troop 332, devoted the first part of his talk to reviewing the organization set-up of the Scout Troop.

In the second part of his address, Mr. DeBruyn spoke at length on the activities which the Boy Scouts and other civic organizations can engage in pertaining to conservation of our natural resources. Encouraging better understanding of our surroundings by acquainting scouts with the flora and fauna of this area will do much toward making better citizens of the younger people, DeBruyn stated. DeBruyn, toward the end of his speech, made the comment that he, "in his position as teacher and scoutmaster was aiming at bringing about a better understanding between student and the adults of the city regarding the beautification of the home and the town itself." "Talking of these things," DeBruyn added, "cannot bring them about, but if school, scouts, home, church and other civic organizations cooperate, conservation, and civic pride can be installed in the hearts and minds of the youth of Munising and our city made more beautiful and progressive."

Party Is Held For Sacred Heart Pupils Thursday

Munising—A Halloween party for grades four to six of the Sacred Heart School was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall from 4 to 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The party, given by the Sacred Heart P. T. A., was under the direction of Mrs. Al Gelbke and Mrs. Earl LaMothe.

Awards were given for the girls' prettiest and funniest costumes and for the boys' handsomest and funniest costumes. Rev. Fr. Harrington, Rev. Fr. Mark, and Stanley Moyle were judges for the costumes.

Prizes were awarded for games, which were played during the afternoon.

Refreshments, part of which were donated for the party by local merchants, were served by the PTA following the games.

About two-hundred children attended the party.

Gulliver Baptist Church To Conduct Gospel Meetings

Rev. Earl D. Sherman, evangelist for the Baptist Conference of Upper Michigan, will conduct a series of special meetings known as "Eight Great Days" at the Bethany Baptist Church, Gulliver, beginning Sunday and continuing through Sunday, November 10. Evening services will be at 8 o'clock every night except Saturday. The Sunday morning services will be at 11:15 o'clock.

Monday night is designated as "Neighbors Night," when it planned that all who attend will bring their neighbors with them. Tuesday and Wednesday nights are designated as "Men's Night" and "Ladies Night," respectively, and though everyone is invited to both services, it is hoped that the designated groups will make a special effort to attend on "their" night.

Thursday evening will be observed as the regular quarterly Family Fellowship Night. Potluck supper will be served at 7 o'clock, followed by reports of the secretary and treasurer and an interesting program.

Friday night is designated as Sunday School and Young People's Night and will be featured by special music and choruses.

A social meeting for all young people in the seventh grade and above is to be held on Saturday evening at which time it is planned to organize a regular young people's group to be affiliated with the Baptist Young People's Union of Upper Michigan.

The public is urged to attend all of these meetings as the Rev. Mr. Sherman is an energetic, forceful and inspiring speaker.

Will Ask For Bond Issue To Construct Hospital In County

A petition, calling for a bond issue of $150,000 as Schoolcraft county's part in the construction of a community hospital for this area, is soon to be circulated for presentation before the county board, according to A. J. Cayia, president of the hospital committee.

In placing this bond issue at $150,000, the committee stresses that this figure is not to mean that the ultimate cost of the hospital will be $450,000, but is set at this amount in order that the construction should not be held up in case cost should be somewhat in excess of the $300,000 which the project is expected to cost.

From the best information now available it is expected that a thirty bed hospital can be built for $300,000.

In the proposed plan it is expected that one-third of the necessary funds will be obtained from a federal grant, one-third by the proposed county bond issue and one-third to be raised by popular subscription from all those living in the county and all industries in the county.

A preliminary solicitation of donations will be made the first of the week with the hope of raising $10,000, to defray the cost of services of an architect and other incidental expenses which must be met before the project is definitely launched. This amount will eventually be added to the part to be raised by popular subscription.

It was considered best to circulate a petition for a bond issue calling for more than now seems to be needed because of uncertainties and inability to accurately forecast the finished cost and consideration should be given all these possibilities.

LOCAL TALENT SCORES HIT

First Music Festival Presented Thursday Was Well Received

Manistique's First Annual Music Festival, presented at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, scored a pronounced hit and brought scores of requests of its sponsors that it be made at least a "Semi-Annual" affair.

The program was widely varied in its numbers with the Manistique Municipal Band providing the interlude between the choral and solo numbers. The band, whose membership has been increased to include returning veterans and past and present members of the high school band, was in fine concert form and won enthusiastic applause.

J. Earl Cousineau was the first soloist on the program, singing the popular number "The Way You Look Tonight." The band served as accompanist.

This was followed by the always popular duo violinists, Carl Olson and Norman Martin, playing "Salute D'Amour" by Algar and "Spring Song" by Barowsky.

Mrs. James Fyvie accompanied them at the piano. The audience clamored for encores.

The Schoolmasters, a quartette composed of Mr. Cousineau, T. H. Reque, Carl Olson and Jerry Thompson, performed with splendid "barbershop harmony" in the presentation of a spiritual and the popular "In the Evening by the Moonlight." They complied with an encore.

Betty Golt of Manistique high school charmed the audience with two solos, "One Alone" and "My Hero."

A women's chorus, composed of Mrs. Elwood Taylor, Mrs. T. H. Reque, Mrs. Carl Wedell, Mrs. H. G. Cowdrick, Mrs. Scott Creighton, Mrs. George Morton, Mrs. O. W. Schuster and Mrs. Don McLean, presented three beautiful numbers, "The Star," "O Night of Dreams," and "Giannina Mia."

George E. Sylvester, 34, of Manistique township, will face trial in circuit court following action in justice court Friday afternoon binding him over to the coming term on two separate charges.

For allegedly slugging John Sasaki, a Soo Line railway employee and robbing him of his wallet containing $25, he is being held on bonds of $2,000 and for allegedly stealing two pigs belonging to Harold Leonard, Manistique township, and selling them, his bond was increased an additional $1,000.

The slugging in question took place on the night of October 3. Sylvester is accused of following the man from a local tavern to the Soo Line depot where he is said to have hit the man with his fist, knocking him out and then taking his wallet from him.

Approximately 4000 automobiles were junked every day during 1944.

Why We Like To Recommend Shell Fuel Oil

It's natural for new users to ask us, their fuel oil burner dealer, what fuel we recommend... what we use ourselves.

Years ago our answers weren't very helpful to our customers. Today it's different. We use SHELL FUEL OIL ourselves and we KNOW.

We know that for clean, dependable and economical fuel you can't beat SHELL.

And we know too, from having made a study of our product, that Shell Fuel Oil is made with as much care as is Shell Gasoline. We happen to know that shell uses a special chemical filtration process and they check fuel oil thirty times between laboratory and oil burner. That means less trouble from clogged jets.

We use it. We recommend it.

Eskymos And Braves Meet In Annual Gridiron Classic Today

MARBLE FIELD SITE OF CLASH

Gladstone Lays Its U. P. Championship Claim On The Line

The undefeated, untied Gladstone Braves, bidding for the Upper Peninsula football championship, lay their claim to the title on the line today as they meet their traditional rival, the Escanaba Eskymos, in a feature gridiron battle at the Marble athletic field in Gladstone this afternoon at two o'clock.

The game will be witnessed by a capacity crowd, perhaps the largest ever to attend a football game at the Marble athletic field. Reserved seats for the game were snapped up in a single day but the bulk of the seating space will go on sale today at general admission rates.

Both the Eskymos and the Braves will be at less than full strength for their battle today as Jack Peterson, sprint champion and breakaway runner for the Eskymos, will be sidelined with a back injury and Rudy Jugo, the Braves' veteran and brilliant tackle, will also be out of action because of injuries.

The remainder of the two squads, including boys injured in recent weeks, will be ready for action, however. Capt. Eugene Timler of the Braves, together with Center Red Butler and Fullback Cliff Gillis, all out of action last week, will be in the starting lineup for their team today. Warren Gustafson, the Eskymos' hard hitting rookie fullback, leading scorer and most dangerous ball carrier, is ready for service today in the Escanaba lineup. Gustafson was out of action the second half of the Marinette game.

The Gladstone Braves have run up six successive victories this season and are the only undefeated, untied team in the peninsula. They need a victory over the Eskymos, however, to clinch their claim to championship recognition.

The Eskymos, lashed by Marinette 26 to 0 last week, are equally determined to finish their season in a heaping blaze of glory. All in all, it shapes up as a battle royal and one of the most interesting and entertaining games in a long and red-hot rivalry.

Eskymos seniors playing their final prep game are Goymerac, Schmelter, Biehler, Buckland, Turner, Schils, and Smith in the starting lineup and Peterson, Friets, Barr and Carlson on the substitute list.

WILDCATS LOOK BEST IN BIG 9

Minnesota Expected To Be Weak Opposition For Michigan

Chicago, Nov. 1 (P)—Northwestern's surprising Wildcats, only undefeated team in the Western Conference, battles to retain its grip on first place by engaging the rebounding Ohio State Buckeyes before a sellout homecoming throng of 48,000 in Dwyer Stadium, Evanston, tomorrow.

Illinois and Iowa will collide in another top game at Iowa City, while Purdue will observe homecoming against Wisconsin at Lafayette and Minnesota, walloped by Ohio State, 39 to 9, a week ago, will furnish probably weak opposition for Michigan at Minneapolis. In a non-conference game, Pittsburgh invades Bloomington to battle Indiana.

The Illinois-Iowa battle will attract a homecoming turnout expected to reach 53,000. While Illinois rates as favorite, intangible factors encourage Iowans to look forward to tomorrow's game with confidence. Iowa is currently regarded as the best defensive team in the "Big Nine" and also is first in percentage of forward passes completed and second in defense against opponents passing.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, the Iowa coach, says his team is just reaching its peak, while Illinois, inspired against Michigan a week ago, may not be able to bounce back.

Northwestern's hopes against Ohio State rest upon its line which performed magnificently in holding Michigan to a 14 to 14 tie two weeks ago, and its fleet ball carriers—Vic Schwall, right half, and Frank Aschenbrenner, his running mate. Schwall, scoring three touchdowns and kicking eight consecutive points after touchdowns in three conference games tops the conference scorers with 26 points. Schwall has averaged 6.3 yards per carry.

The Buckeyes have a quartet of hard running halfbacks in Bob Brugge, who has averaged 8.3 yards per carry; Tommy James, a veteran of the 1942 team; and Alex Verdova and Jerry Krall, stars of the 1945 team.

Brugge appears to have regained his prewar speed. He ran for two touchdowns and passed for another within a space of nine minutes in Ohio's victory over Minnesota.

JUST MISSED—Thielke, Stephenson fullback, went up in the air in an effort to intercept this St. Joseph pass yesterday but just when it appeared that he had snagged the ball, it trickled harmlessly to the ground. No 32 is Stropich, of St. Joseph and No. 44 is Luisier, of Stephenson.

Trojans Take Thriller From Stephenson, 12-6

The St. Joseph Trojans defeated the Stephenson Eagles, 12 to 6, in a hotly contested battle that concluded the football season in Escanaba yesterday.

Both teams played alert, hard football and the game may have ended in a 6-all tie, except for a weird play in the third period which gave the Trojans their first touchdown. Trapped on his own one yard line and falling to the ground for a substantial loss, Sandin tossed the ball into the air and Hermes snagged it on the five-yard stripe. Hermes jogged over the goal for the touchdown.

The game was a see-saw battle all the way with both teams making a series of sustained drives. After receiving the opening kickoff, St. Joseph punched out three successive first downs but finally yielded the ball to Stephenson on a fumble on the Eagles' 30. A few plays later Lewis intercepted a Stephenson pass on his own 45, returning to the Stephenson 45. The Trojans followed with two more first downs but finally lost the ball on downs on the 15-yard line.

Eagles Score First

On a fake punt in the second quarter Sandin broke loose and scooted 42 yards before he was hauled down on St. Joseph's 42-yard line. The Eagles followed with three more first downs, advancing to the nine-yard line but finally gave up the ball on the five-yard stripe.

After working the ball out of danger, St. Joseph punted but Schuette returned to the 34-yard line. Sandin fired a pass to Peterson for 15 yards to the 20-yard line and then Sandin picked an opening for 10 more to the 10. Thielke made nine yards in two plays and then Schuette scored on a quarterback sneak. The kick for the extra point was wide.

The equalizing touchdown came late in the third quarter after the ball had changed hands several times. The Eagles were driven back to their own 19-yard line and a five-yard penalty for backfield in motion followed. It was at this point that Sandin was trapped for a long loss to his one-yard line and finally tossed the ball away blindly into the arms of Hermes, who scored easily. The line smash for the point was stopped short of the goal.

The Eagles took possession on their own 40 when the kickoff went out of bounds. Schuette picked an opening for 20 yards and then Sandin passed to Hansen for 10 more and a first down on the Trojans' 19. Tanguay stopped this threat by intercepting on his own five-yard line just before the third quarter ended.

Long Drive

It was from this point that the Trojans launched their touchdown drive that finally brought them victory. Gafner, a lightweight back with a heart of iron, spearheaded this drive. He drove to the 20-yard line. Lewis added four yards and then Gafner picked a hole for a 17-yard dash to the St. Joseph 41. Tanguay and Gafner moved to Stephenson's 44. Marenger contributed four yards and then Gafner juggled the cowhide three successive plays to the 31-yard line. Lewis passed to Stropich for a first down on the Eagles' 23 and Gafner made it a first down on the 20-yard line. Lewis banged out another first down with a 10-yard slice but Gafner lost five. Lewis picked up only one yard and then Lewis pitched a touchdown pass to Fassberger who caught the ball on the five-yard stripe and jogged over the goal for the winning touchdown. The try for point was smothered.

Stephenson received the kickoff and returned to the 31-yard line. Sandin dashed 13 yards to the 44 but the Eagles had to punt and the Trojans took over on their own 32. St. Joseph made a first down on the 44 but Lewis fumbled and Stephenson recovered on their own 49. Sandin raced 12 to the St. Joseph 39 and then advanced to the 24 in three plays. The time ran out as the Eagles were striving desperately to pitch a last

FOOT CUT OFF FOR BILL VEECK

President Of Indians, Hurt In War, Decides On Amputation

Cleveland, Nov. 1 (P)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians lost his right foot on an operating table today, but other war veterans amputees promised to have him walking almost 100 per cent by the time the Tribe opens spring training next March in Tucson, Ariz.

And Dr. J. A. Dickson, orthopedist who performed the operation, said he could see no reason why Veeck shouldn't attend the December major league meeting in Los Angeles.

Veeck made his own decision to have the foot removed, six inches below the knee, after more than two years of treatment and minor operations. The foot was crushed by the recoil of an anti-aircraft gun on Bougainville while the Tribe president was serving with the Marines.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Eskymos and Braves will battle it out today at Marble athletic field in a renewal of their annual gridiron series that has the football faithful of the two communities practically foaming at the mouth. In the many years that the two Delta county prep teams have met in football, we have never seen such intense interest and rivalry that exists today. It is a good, clean rivalry and because of that today's game will be a good clean game.

It is rare for the Gladstone Braves to enter the Escanaba game as the favorite, but they definitely have the dope in their favor this time. That is not to say that the victory is in the bag for the Braves and acceptance of that theory could well be fatal to the Gladstone hopes. The Braves will meet an Eskymo team that is well seasoned on a suicidal schedule, a team that is big and one that packs a wallop in its ground attack. Moreover, the Eskymos are not making the same pre-game concessions to the Braves that the sports writers are.

The first five minutes of today's game may tell the story. The team that gets the jump on its opponent may cut the pattern for the entire game. Take the Escanaba-

Groggy Gridiron Forecaster Tries His Talent Again

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Nov. 1 (P)—Slightly groggy after the ups and downs of the past two weeks, we move cautiously into the seventh round of football forecasts hanging on to the ropes and an average that has shrunk to .775 on 221 correct predictions, 64 misses and 13 ties:

Notre Dame vs. Navy — What the Middies need after losing four in a row is a breather, not a tornado. The unbeaten Irish have averaged better than five touchdowns a game and there's no reason to believe they'll cut down their percentage here. One confident vote for Notre Dame.

West Virginia vs. Army—Our future generals haven't done as much marching on the gridiron, this season as they figured to do, but they'll probably get plenty of footwork in this one. Although the West Point coaches may all be in Baltimore, one big vote for Army.

Alabama vs. Georgia—The Alabamians may have been thinking of this one when they let Tennessee slip up on them. Don't be surprised if it turns into a personal duel between Gilmer and Trippi. On the theory the Bulldogs are toughest at home, a hesitant nod to Georgia.

Ohio State vs. Northwestern — The Buckeyes need this one to stay in the running for the Big Nine crown. They manhandled Minnesota with much more authority than Northwestern did. The Wildcats, however, have a great line and no defeats. The choice here is Northwestern.

Oregon vs. Southern California —The winner here is the one to challenge UCLA for the Pacific Coast Conference championship. Oregon is in second place at the moment but won't be long. Southern Cal.

Texas vs. Southern Methodist —The Mustangs got a lift from their triumph over Missouri while the Longhorns were being bumped off for the first time by Rice. An angered Longhorn can be mean, Texas.

North Carolina vs. Tennessee —After their upset by Wake Forest, the Vols aren't going to be happy to see Charlie (There ain't no justice, Tennessee is a 5½ point favorite. We'll take Carolina.

Illinois vs. Iowa — The Illini have found the right combination, while the Hawkeyes were so deflated by Notre Dame they probably will need more than a week to pull themselves together. With this in mind, Illinois.

Michigan vs. Minnesota — With the once-glimmering Gophers serving as the golden dormat of the Big Nine and the Wolverines still in the running for the title, it's no other choice. Michigan.

Marquette Upsets Favored Detroit U.

Detroit, Nov. 1. (P)—Losing a 72-yard first period touchdown sprint because of a clipping penalty, the University of Detroit fell to a surprisingly strong Marquette passing game 21 to 20 in the rain here tonight as the Titans suffered their first football setback at home in two seasons.

A Marquette eleven that had lost three times this season achieved the upset triumph in a manner that chilled Detroit's hopes for its best grid record in 13 years. It was Detroit's second loss in seven games.

A thoroughly wet crowd of 10-350 fans sat through a drizzling rain to watch the Hilltoppers use their passing game to the best possible advantage despite the slippery ball and treacherous footing.

Van Wagoner Lauded, Sigler Assailed At Democratic Meetings

Murray D. Van Wagoner, Democratic candidate for governor, was lauded as "the man qualified by experience to become Michigan's governor," and Kim Sigler, his Republican opponent, was described as the product of "the greatest political mockery ever attempted in this state," at Democratic meetings in Escanaba yesterday.

Speakers at the meetings were Atty. Wendell Lund, Washington, D. C., formerly of Escanaba, and Marvin L. Coon of Escanaba, Democratic candidate for auditor general.

First of the meetings was a tea for women held in the club rooms of St. Joseph's school yesterday afternoon, and the second was a Democratic rally held last night in council chambers in city hall. The speakers were introduced at the rally by Atty. Wheaton Strom of Escanaba, who also presented the Delta county Democratic candidates.

Record Is Cited
Tonight at 8:15 o'clock Lund and Coon will address a Democratic meeting to be held in Legion hall in Gladstone. "I want to warn you of the possibility that Michigan, in this November election, may be victimized by the greatest political mockery ever attempted in this state," Coon said. "By chance, by notoriety and by a division of voting strength in the primary, a county prosecutor of whom the people of Michigan still know little or nothing, grabbed the Republican nomination for governor. His nomination defeated better and honorable Republicans."

"If this man were seeking office in the deep south, he would be campaigning barefooted with a hill billy band, and there he would be shouting about Yankee devilry and white supremacy. Do not be deceived by him," Coon continued. "There's 30 feet of froth and nonsense on top of this shallow campaign that the Republican candidate is conducting for governor. After he became special prosecutor, he exploited his sudden notoriety by a long, two-year, statewide campaign of character assassination. It was a very expensive campaign. While I was going through the Lower Peninsula, I talked with many people acquainted with this man, and gathered much more information regarding him."

"I have read most of the Senate investigating report covering his Grand Jury investigations. I made a few notes on this report, which I may not need reference to. However, I believe you should be informed of some of the expenses incurred in that State Grand Jury. To convict those men, whose names I daresay not one of you knows, inasmuch as this Republican candidate for Governor, then prosecutor, let the big fish 'get away'—he spent more than $393,000 up to last March. To add to the picture, it is shown that this man was fired from his job as special prosecutor because he could not convict the men he was investigating. For an unfinished job, he received over $63,000 in salary. In addition to this salary, he collected $7,495 for expenses," Coon said.

Sigler "Not Qualified"
"Also of interest to you, no doubt, is the fact that the Grand Jury funds paid for 50 newspaper mats of his photograph, to be used for newspaper pictures. Probably he was then thinking of running for governor," Coon added.

"This man is not qualified to be governor of Michigan. I challenge him to point to any part of his training and experience that indicates any adequate preparing for the job as your chief executive," Coon said. "Consider, do you want a prosecutor or a builder as governor of Michigan? Do you want a man who has learned the job by doing it, or one who would enter that office knowing nothing about it?"

"You people know Pat Van Wagoner. You know his record as state highway commissioner. You will remember the highways built during his administration and how well they were maintained. You will remember the employees who were out removing snow as it fell. You remember the picnic tables and roadside parks. They were Pat Van Wagoner's idea, and are being copied by every part of the nation.

"You know his record as governor. It was a good record. The first strong civil service in Michigan government was built in Van Wagoner's administration," Coon said.

The praise of the Democratic candidate for governor as a man "qualified" to again head state government was continued by Lund, who also touched on the national and international aspects of the present political campaign.

Record Of Accomplishments
"It is a welcome opportunity for the voters of Delta county and the Upper Peninsula once again to support the candidacy of Van Wagoner for high public office," Lund said. "We know from experience that we can trust him to serve our state well. The people of the Upper Peninsula especially have great confidence in his judgment and understanding of their problems. During his term as state highway commissioner, he built five times as many miles of hard-surfaced roads in the Upper Peninsula as all of his predecessors put together."

"You know, largely classified, there are two types of candidates—those who promise a lot, and do nothing; and those who don't promise so much, but do a great deal; and I believe we can see that Pat Van Wagoner falls in that second category," Lund said. "As far as we people in the Upper Peninsula are concerned, we know that he has done far more than he ever promised."

"You can take my word for it that if you should re-elect Van Wagoner to the office for which he is again running, governor of the state of Michigan, his integrity in his personal life and public life cannot be questioned," Lund said.

"I feel I should tell you a few other things about Mr. Van Wagoner. It is practically unnecessary to remind you that among the other things he inherited when he became governor in 1941 was a state deficit of $27,000,000. When he retired from the governorship, he had a $27,000,000 surplus in the state treasury."

Praises State Ticket
"Also, he handled the best job ever done in Michigan in labor management, particularly in Detroit. This was done in our pre-war and early war production. I feel there is no man who can take over the government of the state of Michigan as governor who would have the confidence of management and of workers to a greater extent. Here is a public servant who has been tried and tested. We cannot afford to turn him down for a novice, a political adventurer who has no experience in state administration. There can be no question as to Van Wagoner's honesty and ability. Michigan needs him again during the post-war period so that we can move ahead with assurance to an era of high wages, stable employment and development of our state highways to take care of our demands of recreation, industry and transportation," Lund said.

"Pat Van Wagoner has a ticket made up of capable and honest running mates. I am particularly proud that Escanaba is represented on our state Democratic ticket by its mayor, about whom I don't have to tell you people, because you live with him, you know him and you know his family; and furthermore, you know that he is a man with an outstanding record in both World Wars and as a public official; and that if he is typical of the Democratic candidates, which I believe he is, that by voting for that ticket you will be placing the government of the state of Michigan in safe and sound hands," Lund declared.

Democratic candidates introduced at the meeting included Mrs.

Pontiac Schoolboy Awarded Carnegie Medal For Heroism

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 1 (P)—Francis A. Proffitt, 15-year-old schoolboy from Pontiac, Mich., was awarded a bronze medal for heroism Friday by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission. Proffitt saved three school chums from drowning in March, 1945, when they fell through thin ice on Terry Lake.

The commission also announced the award of the bronze medal to Louie C. Womack, Corte Madera, Calif., who saved a ten-year-old boy from drowning at the same Michigan lake in December of 1944.

Proffitt's citation credits him with saving C. Martin Coulson, Jr., 11, Robert D. Dick, 12, and J. Edward Coulson, 7. Martin fell through thin ice into water 13 feet deep about 25 feet from shore. Robert tried to pull him out but the ice broke under him. Proffitt ran 375 feet around the bank where open water extended to the shore and started swimming toward Martin. Meantime Edward also broke through the ice. Proffitt towed Martin twenty feet to safety, then returned for Robert and took him to shallow water. On his third trip he swam 25 feet to Edward and brought him to safety with difficulty as the younger boy clung to Proffitt's neck.

Paris-Casablanca Airliner Crashes; All 21 Aboard Die

Limoges, France, Nov. 1 (P)—Eighteen passengers and three crewmen of Paris-Casablanca plane were killed today when it crashed in the mountainous region near here.

Air officials said the French transport plane crashed just before noon in the hills above the village of St. Leger La Montagne, 25 miles from here. There were no survivors.

The plane, a German-built Junkers, radioed the Limoges airport just before the crash that ice was forming on its wings.

Although no official reason for the crash was given, officials of the Limoges airport said they believed the plane, owned by the Languedoc-Roussillon air lines, descended to a warmer altitude in an effort to thaw the ice and crashed into the side of a hill.

The rescue squad said the plane had exploded upon crashing.

The labor secretary requested the company and union to restore the relationship that existed before picket violence broke out last Monday at the plant, which manufactures farm equipment and other machinery.

Although details were withheld on the new proposal in the Trans World Airline strike, federal mediator Frank P. Douglass voiced hope both sides might submit their dispute to arbitration.

Resorters Asked To Give Veterans Leases In Winter

Washington, Nov. 1 (P)—Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt appealed today to operators of summer resorts to give veterans short-term leases during the winter season.

This, he said in a statement, would provide thousands of interim quarters and temporarily relieve the housing shortage this winter.

Furthermore, Wyatt added, summer resort operators could command higher rental rates in rent control areas if they would rehabilitate or install new heating equipment and convert their living units into year-round housing. Those who do not follow this line, he said, could give short-term leases for off-season months and obtain possession for the summer trade.

Winter rentals would be fixed at current ceilings, if ceilings apply in the particular areas. However, landlords could charge their regular summer rates, generally much higher, during the season.

Detroit Kayoed By Sugar Robinson

Detroit, Nov. 1 (P)—Sugar Ray Robinson of New York outboxed Cecil Hudson of Detroit for five rounds and kayoed him in the sixth session of a scheduled 10-round fight before 8,614 fans at Olympia tonight.

Robinson's rapier-like left gave him a wide margin of points before he opened up as the sixth round got underway. The Detroit was downed for a nine count early in the round and was floored for the second time a few moments later. He was counted out at 2:59 of the round.

The crowd which paid a gross gate of $21,690 had a brief flurry of excitement as Hudson's handlers rushed into the ring, protesting that the bell rang before referee Johnny Weber reached a 10 count. The protest was disallowed.

Almost half of the nation's communities depend solely on automotive transportation. Ring-necked pheasants were not introduced into the United States from China until 1881.

Schoolboy Killed By Train; Brother Snatched To Safety

Detroit, Nov. 1 (P)—Death before an onrushing passenger train today separated two young Wyandotte brothers when heroic rescue attempts were only half successful.

Vernon Wohlfell, 15, and his eight-year-old brother, Neil, were walking to school when they stopped to watch a southbound New York Central passenger train pass a crossing. Then their attention was diverted to section hands using trip-hammers to repair tracks a few feet away.

As they started across the tracks they failed to notice a northbound passenger train approaching. But two crew foremen did.

One, J. B. Reynolds of Trenton, snatched Vernon to safety—by inches. The other, Chester Rowe of Ecorse township, grabbed Neil's arm but the boy slipped away, unaware of his danger. Rowe leaped backward to miss death by a split second.

The train struck Neil, hurled him 45 feet and severed both his legs. He was dead on admittance to Wyandotte General hospital.

The boys' mother, Mrs. Ferdinand Wohlfell, sobbed as she explained that Vernon, because of the crossing, always took Neil to grade school before he went to high school.

Bargaining sessions on the union's demand for a second wage increase have been held every day since Wednesday.

TRAIN WRECK KILLS 18

Berlin, Nov. 1 (P)—The Berlin radio said tonight 18 persons were killed and 20 injured today in a railway accident at Trogelitz in Russian-occupied Thuringia, about 50 miles south of Leipzig.

Western Germany Faces Hard Winter

Wiesbaden, Germany, Nov. 1 (P)—Western Germany faces another hard winter, chiefly because of its coal shortage, but next spring should bring "a real increase in manufacturing production" in the merged U. S. and British zones, Brig. Gen. William H. Draper, Jr., told a meeting of German government and economics leaders here today.
